

Connecticut

magazine

The Trained Eye: The Art of Railroads & Stations

Saturday, December 21st, 2019 @ 12:00 pm – 3:00 pm

Lockwood-Mathews Mansion Museum

Gen. Admission: $10 adults, $8 seniors, $6 children 8-18 years old/45 minute tour

Gen. Admission: $20 adults, $18 seniors, $16 children 8-18 years old/90 minute tour

<https://www.lockwoodmathewsmansion.com/exhibit/the-trained-eye-the-art-of-railways-and-stations/>

A subject matter explored by some of the great artists of the 19th and early 20th centuries, such as Claude Monet, Edward Hopper, and Camille Pissarro, railroads and stations are familiar places that continue to inspire contemporary artists and impact society and the environment.

Curated by artist and Trustee Gail Ingis and Trustee Julyen Norman, the exhibition will feature artists: David Bravo, David Dunlop, Julie O'Connor, DeAnn Prosia, Helen Roman, Alexsander Rotner, Cathy Russell, Anthony Santomauro, Norm Siegel, and Rob Zuckerman. Come in to view the gallery during our Wednesday-Sunday hours!

Lockwood-Mathews Mansion Museum
295 West Avenue
Norwalk, CT 06850
